Stance: Customer objects to the Planning Application

Comment Reasons:

Comment: There has been a large increase in anti-social behaviour in the development of late. This has included mess in the communal areas, vomit, broken glass etc. Instances of excessive noise and rowdiness have also increased. This has been increasing as the number of short term lets has increased whether licensed or not. Some of the people using short term let accommodation have no regard for the permanent residents of the development or for the additional costs incurred clearing up their mess.
