Good morning Jacqui.

I note that the parade applied for is the "full-length" Albyn - Union Street - Castle Street march. This is not as held in recent years, when a St Nicholas Churchyard to Castlegate march has been adopted, under police control, thus avoiding traffic management and temporary traffic order costs.

The route as given will incur costs for the Council. The Committee may wish to ascertain where these costs will be met from. It would be a controversial decision to waive these for one organisation without extending this privilege to others (charities, British Armed Forces Day parade, et cetera and potentially to organisations with whose philosophies the Council may disapprove).
